

CALL FOR RESOURCES OPEN ACCESS MODULES FOR PEACE PSYCHOLOGY

We are soliciting on-line resource materials that authors/presenters are willing to make available to anyone wanting to become more educated about peace psychology and to teachers wanting to develop or improve instruction on peace psychology. We expect to post these educational materials, or links to them, on the websites of organizations willing to make the materials available to anyone without cost.

LEARN MORE AND SUBMIT RESOURCES HERE!

HTTPS://TINYURL.COM/5ERPVD7W

ABOUT US

We are an independent, international group of peace psychologists developing a repository of online resources for peace psychology courses. The project was initiated by the Peace Education Working Group of the Society for the Study of Peace, Conflict, and Violence of the American Psychological Association.

WHAT TYPES OF RESOURCES?

VIDEO LECTURES

VIDEOS DESCRIBING CASE STUDIES, METHODS, THEORIES

INTERVIEWS OR PODCASTS

FREELY AVAILABLE READINGS WITH CURRICULUM INTEGRATION

ASSIGNMENTS OR ACTIVITIES

ANY OTHER INNOVATIVE IDEAS!

QUESTIONS OR IDEAS? CONTACT US AT openaccesspeacepsychology@gmail.com

PROJECT MEMBERS: Riyanti Abriyani, Daniel Christie, Christine Hansvick, Winnifred Louis, Caitlin Mahoney, Breeda McGrath, Linden Nelson, Rebekah Phillips DeZalia, Gabriel Velez